

golf course view

product type single-family homes

project size
2,300 acres

lot size
35'

client
ginn company

As part of a land plan study of narrow lots, prototype houses were designed to test the criteria Canin Associates had included in the design guidelines such as setbacks and building heights. One vital aspect to the design was that the architecture on the garage-dominated street remained attractive. The architectural styles demonstrate the historic traditional styles found in the southeast United States.

lane view